

Austrian Feedbacks Spain

I enjoyed the trip to Spain a lot, because it was a new great experience. The people in Spain are all so nice and welcoming. My host family was very nice, and I really felt like I was home. The food was delicious, but the Spanish people eat a lot and it took a little bit to adapt to eating so much. I liked the tour of the school a lot and I also liked the workshops we had there, especially the app programming was fun, and it was nice to be able to test the app you created immediately. The weather was very warm especially since in February we only have like 10 degrees in Austria. I liked the city tour of Murcia with all its churches and cathedrals and that you can really notice the differences between building styles over the ages. The Roman theatre in Cartagena was also very nice and it was interesting to see how buildings can be completely covered and then hundreds of years later found again and excavated. Going to the beach was also great, because first of all in Austria we have no access to the sea and secondly it was a very warm and nice day, so we had a lot of fun at the beach. I also liked the "OPEN DOORS DAY" a lot, because we had all this different kinds of food from all the countries and it made fun to cook with the host family. (Claudia Schusser)

I have to say that our journey to Spain was a great experience for me. My host-family was very nice and friendly and also the teachers and the other people too. The population of Spain is so friendly and lovely. It was interesting for me to get to know a new culture. Mostly I liked the daytrip to Cartagena because it was a very warm day and that is so strange because in Austria we have like 15 degrees now and on the beach the boys were going to swim in the water. This was very funny. When we visited the city Murcia, the churches and the cathedrals were very interesting for me because they have such a special method of construction. In my opinion the city is a very beautiful place where you can do a lot of things. The food tastes really good but in Spain the people are eating so much. That was a new experience for me but I liked it because I got to know new kinds of food. I think it was a funny idea that we had the „PAELLA-.day“ because everyone was able to try food from other countries. (Katrin Hribernik)

The journey to Spain was a great opportunity for me to improve my English. I met many new friends there. My host-family was very nice and friendly to me. On Monday it was very interesting to see a different school. The teachers and children were very friendly there. In the afternoon I was allowed to ride a horse. It was very exciting for me.

On Tuesday we visited Murcia. Many big churches and cathedrals were very interesting. The people there are much more religious than we are. The best day was Thursday. We visited Cartagena and the sea. It was 15 degrees cold. I was swimming with my friend and we had much fun.

I also got to know a lot of new meals. On Wednesday we could try different kind of meals from the other countries and families. On Friday we had a great party with our Spanish friends. I am looking forward to seeing my Spanish friends again in October.

On the day we arrived, I visited a shopping centre with my host, where we ate at Burger King. After that we went into an arcade room where we played a few games to win some tickets and to choose a price. After that we played a round of bowling. This was a great first day to start the week off with. On the next day we visited their school for the first time. They gave us a tour around the school and organized something to eat for all of us afterwards. On Tuesday we had a walking tour through Murcia, so we could look at many different sights of the city. On Wednesday we created a logo in a workshop. After that the different schools of the three participating countries Poland, Turkey and Austria had their presentations. In the afternoon we had a Paella and the hosts of the different countries had made typical food of their nationalities. On Thursday we visited "El Puerto de culturas" where we visited an antique Roman theatre and the museum and in the evening, we had the goodbye dinner. On the last day Friday, we visited the "Museo de la Huerta" and after that we went shopping in the shopping centre "Nueva condomina". It was a very amusing week with a lot of content, because we added our own stuff to do in the free time. I really enjoyed my time in Spain!

I liked most about the project that I made new friends and got know a new culture. I really loved the day in Cartagena and the Paella afternoon. What I did not enjoy so much was the Museo de la Huerta and the sightseeing in Murcia because it was not so interesting.

I did enjoy the workshops about the logo and the mobile app. I would like to say to the organisers, that it is a nice project and it's good for improving your English. I am sure I would take part again.

I would like to thank my host family to adopt me for that week, for cooking so good and for the great time with them. It was a very good time to improve my English and get know of another culture.

So, all in all I really loved the week in Spain, it was a very nice program, so nice people and very good food ;) I am looking forward to the return visit from Spain. (Hannah Reiter)

First, I have to say that I really enjoyed the last week. My host family and my host sister were so nice. I lived at their house like at my home. For me it was much more than an English project. We met so many new friends and we came very close in only 5 days. So, it was really hard to say good bye, because they were so friendly and nice girls and I really liked them.

The highlight of this weak was the trip to Cartagena. There we went to the Roman Theatre in the morning which was beautiful, because this building has been here for hundreds of years and anyway it looks so beautiful. After the short break and the visit to the Isaac Peral submarine we went to the beach. The weather was great, we showed the Spanish girls how to play typical Austrian card games and in return they taught us how to speak Spanish. We had so much fun and laughed a lot.

To come to an end I really liked this project and I think after the first two days it really helped me to improve my English. If there is any possibility to take part in such a project again, I would like to do it. It was a great experience (Selina Elbischger)

I think the Erasmus project in Spain was really nice and I'm glad I participated in it. I especially liked the tours in Murcia and Cartagena. That's because I think historic cities like these two are really interesting considering some historic sights in them are hundreds of years old. The guides were really nice people and they explained everything understandably. Another thing I really loved was the picnic at the beach. The water was beautiful and it was really nice to spend a day at the beach with my friends. I also liked the lunch we had at the school where everyone brought some food from his country because I like to try different kinds of food from different countries. The presentations about the other schools and the logo competition were also pretty decent in my opinion. The only project I didn't like as much was the mobile app programming because I wasn't really familiar with this kind of programming. But the Spanish teachers still explained it pretty good so at the end of the day I still learned something. My host family was really nice and I also liked that my host and his friends planned excursions after school so the time I spend there was never boring. Overall I loved the project and I would repeat it any time.(Nicolas Serrano)
